Additionally you need:

- 21 158 00 Special needle to thread beads, 11.4 cm
- 89 379 00 Pointed-tip paper scissors
- 33 397 00 Glue for jewellery
Wooden skewer

Instructions:

1 Cut 30 cm long piece off the Magic-stretch thread and string beads of your choice onto the thread by means of the special needle for threading beads.

TIP: When doing this, hold the thread end tightly!

2 The chosen amount of beads should loosely encircle your wrist. Make sure that the bracelet is long enough to fit around your wrist, then knot its both ends with a double overhand knot

3 Affix the knot securely with the glue for jewellery using a wooden skewer.

Instructions for tassel pendant:

- 1 Wind about 1.2 m long light beige cotton yarn 8 times around your four straight-closed fingers. Cut the thread off.
- 2 Insert the yarn bundle halfway into the ring of 8 mm. Put both ends together and stretch the threads down.
- 3 Use the remaining 30 cm of yarn to fasten the tassel with about 4-5 windings below the ring and with a double overhand knot.
- 4 Conceal both ends in the middle of the tassel by means of the special needle for threading beads.
- 5 Cut the tassel evenly to a length of about 2.5 cm.
- 6 Attach the suspension ring of the carabiner clasp as a connector between the carabiner and the tassel ring. To do this, use two pairs of pliers (pliers for jewellery and flat round pliers).

Instructions for raw-wood ball pendant:

- 1 String the enclosed beads on the straight pin in the following order: Renaissance glass wax bead, raw wood ball, polished glass bead and finally the metallic Rocailles bead.
- 2 Bend the remaining free part of the straight pin into a loop by means of the pliers for jewellery.
- 3 Attach the suspension ring of the carabiner clasp as a connector between the carabiner and the bent loop. To do this, use two pairs of pliers (pliers for jewellery and flat round pliers).
