Glass jar for dipping candles, wooden sticks, mixing container for Raysin, scales

Instructions:

Raysin house

1 Take Raysin and the "Lichthäuser" casting mould to cast your little house to a thickness of around 1.5 cm. Once the house has dried, you can demould it.

Dip-dye candle

2 Fill the glass jar with wax pellets. The glass jar should be filled to about ¾ with wax pellets for each colour pigment. Heat the filled jar in a bain-marie until all the wax pellets have melted. However, care must be taken to ensure that the water only gets hot and does not boil.

Crush the colour pigment with a knife, pour it into the glass jar filled with liquid wax and mix it evenly by stirring with a wooden stick.

TIP: The more colour pigments are added, the more intense the colour shade.

3 Now take a candle, dip it into the dyed, liquid wax and let it dry. By dipping it several times and allowing to dry, the colour shade becomes more intense.

4 Once the coloured wax on the candle has dried, decorate the candle with the motif from the transfer foil.

Tray

5 Arrange the wood pen blanks on the wood plank and affix them firmly by means of the glue fix pen.

6 Make two cuttings from the kraft paper (20 × 3 cm and 12 × 3 cm). Place the long cutting in the middle of the front panel and stick the short cutting on the rear panel over the long cutting to join the kraft paper strip.

7 Thread 3 wooden beads onto the cord. Wind the cord twice around the kraft paper strip, attach the tag on and tie the cord with a simple bow at the front.

8 You can now arrange the candle, the little house and the fir trees on the small tray and secure them in place by means of the adhesive dots.
